“Having used Reprotec for a number of years to support our printing and photocopying requirements, we have always been impressed by their impeccable levels of service and support.

As we produce large volumes of varying degrees of high quality literature, both internally and externally, it is good to know that we can always rely on the robust nature of the machine to output exactly what we ask for at a high level of quality. Reprotec have proved themselves an easy partner to work with as they always recommend the device which is best suited to our requirements and offer extremely competitive pricing with nationwide support available. I would highly recommend Reprotec for all aspects of your printing needs”

Peter Thompson – Chief Executive of the English Indoor Bowling Association

Systems for every task in every office...

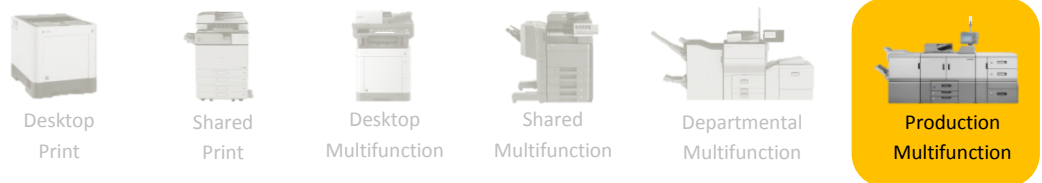

Reprotec have carefully selected partners that enable us to offer you the best systems, whatever type of work you do and however large or small your office is.

Kyocera's ranges of office systems include the ECOSYS family of environmentally sustainable printers and the powerful TASKalfa multifunctionals. Kyocera products have earned an enviable reputation for low running costs, easy support and a strong familial identity.

Although best-known as a manufacturer of multifunctionals, Ricoh's product portfolio covers everything from small desktop printers for executives to large production printers for reprographic departments.

The Riso ComColor series has revolutionised high-volume production printing. By exploiting Riso's ForceJet™ technology, ComColor systems combine high-speed printing, exceptionally low production costs, extraordinary reliability and minimal power consumption.
